VOL. 52 — No. 6

HOUSE SURVEY TO BE MADE

For Dwellings Suitable As Rental Property In Bay
Saint Louis And Waveland

L. L. Kergosien, local realtor, has been assigned the task of making a survey of every available house suitable for rental purposes in the vicinity of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

The Higgins Aircraft Corporation has requested this survey in order to find available rental property to be used by the employees of the Higgins Company which will increase its present number of employees greatly in the near future.

If enough suitable property can be found in this vicinity, adequate transportation facilities will be arranged for by the Higgins Company, and Mr. Kergosien states that if we can assure these people that there will be available ample property to justify the task of arranging for transportation, the Housing Personnel will begin sending families over immediately.

However, a stipulation specifically made was that rents would have to be within reason and not increased unduly as while Bay St. Louis and Waveland are near to several defense areas, Hancock County is not considered a defense area and no exorbitant increase in rentals will be tolerated.

The community and people hereabouts will benefit greatly by the acquisition of permanent residents in great number as, like most Coast cities whose rental property depends almost solely on summer people, with gasoline rationing and tire shortages, the prospect for productive summer seasons or even week ends is not bright hence Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the entire section would benefit beyond words if conditions are made attractive enough and these people locate here.

Mr. Kergosien requests that anyone having rental property communicate with him so that he may list same and include it in his survey in order to make it complete.

Aviator Killed In Crash Dive Bomber Near Kiln

Second Lt. La Verne J. Wecker, 23, stationed at Keesler Field on temporary duty, was killed Saturday afternoon when the A-36 dive bomber he was piloting on a routine flight crashed in a swampy area near Kiln. Lieutenant Wecker, son of Mrs. John J. Wecker, Hugo, Colo., was on detached service here from his home base, Key Field, Meridian. His death marked the first flying fatality recorded at Keesler Field in its 19-month history.

A board of qualified Air Forces officers will be appointed to determine in detail the cause of the accident.

Lieut. Wecker entered the Army Jan. 6, 1942 and was graduated as a flying officer from the Brooks Field, Texas, Flying School Sept. 6.

The body was shipped from the O'Keefe Funeral Parlor to Hugo, Colo.

W. P. A. Recreation Ends

The W. P. A. Recreation Project will discontinue their activities on February 10th in order to abide with President Roosevelt's order.

Through this medium, we, the workers, wish to thank the merchants who contributed weekly towards entertainment for service men, and also thank the various organizations which assisted when called upon.

We wish also to thank the County and City Officials.

To the ladies who were so faithful in rendering their services on activity nights, we say thank you and we wish to especially thank Mrs. Gus Templelet who has given her services as treasurer for the past three years or more. Her cooperation has been one hundred percent.

To our sponsors, the Knights of Columbus, we extend our most sincere thanks for the use of their hall and for their cooperation.

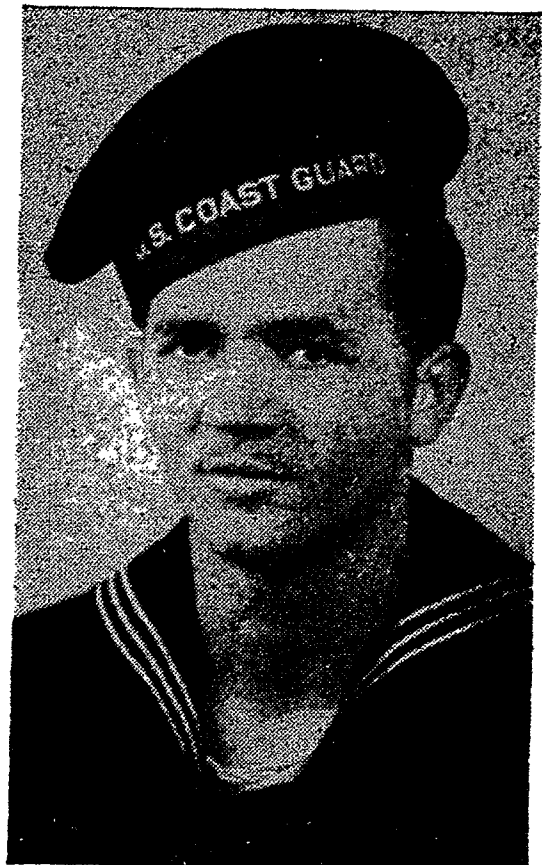

Again we wish to say thank you to anyone who in any way contributed towards entertaining the thousands of boys who enjoyed themselves in Bay St. Louis at the W. P. A. Recreational Lounge.

(Signed)
ALMA QUINTINI, Director
MARGARET BACKMAN
JESSIE FAYRE.

TYPISTS NEEDED

The Civilian Defense Volunteer Office is being kept open by volunteers and since we no longer have a secretary, there is a need for typists. Anyone willing to give some time in this capacity please call 258.

IN COAST GUARD

ALVIN J. LADNER, S 2/c

Alvin J. Ladner, son of Mayor and Mrs. Garfield J. Ladner of Waveland, is a Seaman 2nd Class in the United States Coast Guard and is stationed at Galveston, Texas.

IN ENGINEERS

PVT. ROLAND C. JOHNSTON

Pvt. Roland C. Johnston of Bay St. Louis is a member of Co. A, 303rd Eng. Bn., 4th Platoon, 78th Division and is stationed at Camp Butler, North Carolina.

TO LEAVE SATURDAY FOR MANEUVERS

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, Ben Hille Commander, will leave Saturday at noon with a fleet and crews of eight for Chef Menteur for Manuevers and rendezvous. All Mississippi and Louisiana auxiliaries will participate. There will be two of the local boats left here on duty.

Coast Guard inspectors recently came out from New Orleans and after a general inspection and checking the boats of the local auxiliary reported all boats properly equipped and in good condition.

Review No. 10 of W. B. A. Holds Reception

Review No. 10 of the Woman's Benefit Association held a reception on Wednesday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall honoring two of their supreme officers, Mrs. Carrie Little, Supreme Captain, of Port Huron, Michigan, and Mrs. Pearl H. Crox, of Birmingham, Alabama, and Mrs. Fay Argue, of Biloxi.

A large number of members of the local review were present to meet the visitors and each of the ladies gave an interesting talk. Mrs. Little stated that the Woman's Benefit Association was the only fraternal group in the United States that had purchased six million dollars worth of War Bonds in the year 1942, and that had pledged to invest 75c of every dollar of the surplus in War Bonds in the year 1943.

A class of ten candidates for membership was presented to the visitors and Mrs. Louise Fayard and Miss Miriam Engman, both pioneer members, were given a splendid tribute for their untiring efforts in endeavoring to increase the membership of the review, the aim for the year '43 being to double the present membership.

The pot of gold prize, consisting of $2.10 in defense stamps, was awarded to Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs.

After the meeting, the Refreshment Committee consisting of Mrs. F. J. Bopp, Mrs. Louise Fayard and the Misses Levia Engman and Helen E. Bieh served refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches and cakes and soft drinks and a most enjoyable social hour was enjoyed.

BAY-WAVELAND GARDEN CLUB TO HOLD MEETING, FEB. 11

The regular monthly meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Mozgabs on Thursday, February 11, at 3:00 o'clock and all members are urged to attend.

$260.00 COLLECTED FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS FUND

The drive for funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis made in Hancock County ended with a collection amounting to $260 which exceeded any collection heretofore made in Hancock County.

Mrs. Stella Gex and her co-chairman, Miss Miriam Engman, are to be congratulated on the splendid results of the dance sponsored by the Moron Club, and a collection of $58 was made by the cadets at the War Shipping Administration's Cadet Training Base at Henderson Point.

The dance sponsored by the Moron Club was held in St. Joseph Auditorium on last Saturday evening and was attended by a large number of the high school set.

The hall was attractively decorated in a patriotic theme with American flags and red, white and blue bunting used profusely.

Music was furnished by a music box and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

The Rev. Father Neimeyer assisted the boys and girls materially, and the following young people acted as a door committee: Miss Beryl Bourgeois and Beverly Davis, Mrs. Elmer Breerwood.

Chaperoning the dance were Mrs. Marion Anderson, Mrs. Stella Gex, Misses Miriam Engman and Muriel Kergosien, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Gex, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ford.

Dr. H. A. Eldredge To Maintain Office In Masonic Temple

Dr. H. A. Eldredge will maintain his office in the Masonic Temple Building, with office hours from 8:00 o'clock A. M. to 12:00 o'clock noon and from 2:00 o'clock P. M. to 4:00 o'clock P. M.

Dr. Eldredge, formerly of Abbeville, Louisiana, where he operated his own hospital, is no stranger in Bay St. Louis, having visited his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gex, Jr., for years. Recently he purchased the old O'Leary home on the beach front where he and his family are now domiciled. The people of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County are particularly fortunate in having Dr. Eldredge locate here. He has had much experience in surgery and contemplates following this line of practice in Bay St. Louis.

PLANT YOUR VICTORY GARDEN NOW

Plant your Victory Garden now and you will be assured of something to eat all summer long. Do not wait for the other fellow to supply you with fresh vegetables that can be easily raised in your own back yard. You will be helping yourself and your government, too, in taking care of the needs of your family.

The H. G. Hastings Co., of Atlanta, Georgia, has a very attractive offer of a special one dollar garden collection, selected especially to take care of your needs, supplying you with just the seeds that you want for your Victory Garden, including: pole beans, bush beans, cabbage, corn, collard, tomato, carrot, squash, radish, pepper, watermelon, lettuce, beet, okra, turnip, cucumber, muskmelon or cantaloupe and even a package of Marigold to make the landscape attractive while you work.

Turn the ground now, order your seed and you will soon have the pleasure of seeing your plants grow, and the satisfaction of knowing that you are doing your part.

The Junior Red Cross at Bay High School have completed thirty-five soldiers' kit bags and filled them with the necessary articles which make them such luxuries for a soldier embarking for overseas duty to receive.

The boys and girls in various ways accumulated the $35.00 with which to buy the articles such as tooth paste and brushes, shaving cream, soap razor blades, writing paper and other articles and enjoyed the task of making the bags and filling them for our boys to use during their voyage overseas and upon their arrival in a foreign land. Mrs. Laurent Dickson also gave a generous donation of various articles to help fill the kit bags for which the Junior Red Cross is very grateful.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service recently donated $17.00 to the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross for use in making and equipping soldiers' kits.

The Episcopal Guild of Christ Church also recently donated $5.00 to the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross for use of the Junior Red Cross in making and equipping soldiers' kits.

Miss Mary Alice Willis, General Field Representative of the Eastern Area of the American Red Cross, was a visitor to the local chapter on Tuesday and conferred with Mrs. Louis Maumus, Executive Secretary, and other officers of Hancock Chapter of American Red Cross.

Reappointment by President Roosevelt of Norman H. Davis as chairman of the American Red Cross was announced at the annual meeting of the Board of Incorporators, Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone of the Supreme Court, vice-president of the Society, presided at the meeting. Annual meetings of the chapter delegates and of the Central Committee, governing body of the Red Cross, also were held at the national headquarters. New members elected to three-year terms were Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, chancellor of Vanderbilt University and Arthur H. Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times. Three vacancies on the Board of Incorporators were filled by the election of Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit; Philip Murray, C. I. O. president; and Dr. Meta Glass, president of Sweet Briar College, Virginia.

Deputy Income Tax Collector To Assist With Tax Returns March 4th and 5th

Hon. Eugene Fly, Collector of Internal Revenue of the State of Mississippi, advises us that his deputies will be in Bay St. Louis at the Courthouse on March 4th and 5th for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their 1942 income tax returns.

May we suggest that in the event you need assistance in preparing your income tax return, or need any advice in the matter, that you contact the deputy collector, Mr. James H. McManus who will be here at that time.

LOUIS B. PATE APPOINTED TO SHIPPING POST

The appointment of Mr. Louis B. Pate of this city as regional director of the war shipping administration for Argentina and Uruguay, with headquarters at Buenos Aires, was announced Tuesday night at the St. Charles Hotel at a testimonial dinner given in his honor by the Propeller Club, of which he is past president. Until recently Mr. Pate was executive vice-president of the Mississippi Shipping Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Pate came to Bay St. Louis several years ago and are now residing in their home on North Beach Boulevard. The good wishes of the people of Bay St. Louis will follow Mr. Pate in his new undertaking.

Bish Clark Graduates From Army Air Force Technical Training School

The Public Relations Office and the Army Air Force Training School at Gulfport advises us that Pvt. Solie A. (Bish) Clark, former member of the Bay St. Louis High School, has been graduated from the Army Air Force Technical Training Command School for airplane mechanics.

Bish is formerly from Poplarville and he and Mrs. Clark lived in Bay St. Louis for a number of years, during which time he was teacher and principal at the Bay St. Louis High School. We wish for him much more success in the service of his country.

Dr. M. J. Wolfe Attends Course in Pediatrics

Dr. Felix J. Underwood, Executive Officer of the State Board of Health, announced Tuesday that thirty-one Mississippi physicians are at the Tulane School of Medicine at New Orleans for a four-day course in Pediatrics. Among those attending is Dr. Marion J. Wolfe of Bay St. Louis.

The course was made available to these physicians through the cooperation of the Commonwealth Fund of New York City.

EDWARD STRONG DIES AT HOME ON WASHINGTON STREET

Edward Strong, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong of this city, died at his home in Washington street, Monday, February 1, at 4 p. m., after a long illness.

Mr. Strong was stricken at his work five weeks ago and had been ill since. He was taken to the King's Daughters Hospital for treatment but when it was found that he could not recover he was moved to his home.

He was a native and life resident of Bay St. Louis and was a member of one of the old families.

He is survived by his wife, the former Sidonia Cuevas, three daughters, Misses Louise, Marie and Corinne Strong of Bay St. Louis. He also leaves two brothers, Charles and William Strong, Bay St. Louis; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Hymel, New Orleans and Mrs. Charles Picou of Franklin, Louisiana and a large number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 4 p. m. from the Fahey Funeral Home with services there and at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, the Rev. Father Neimeyer, officiating. Interment was in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

The pallbearers were his nephew Robert Strong, John Thomas, Tom Machado, John Egloff, Ed Ortte and Edward Heitzman.

The Echo extends to the bereaved family deep sympathy.

AT SHEPPARD FIELD

PVT. JOS. L. LADNER

Pvt. Joseph L. Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ladner of Ansley, is a member of 320th Technical School Squadron, Sheppard Field, Texas. We are certain that 'Red,' as he was genially known, will make the grade. He is a grandson of Mr. Joseph A. Zengarling.

DEATH OF E. J. LACOSTE

Thursday, Jan. 28—Native
Of New Orleans, Resi-
at Past 26 Years

Emil Joseph Lacoste died at the Kings Daughters Hospital here on Thursday, January 28 at 3:45 p. m., following a long illness. He was a native of New Orleans and a resident of Bay St. Louis for twenty-six years.

Mr. Lacoste had been the Southern representative of the N. R. Allen Leather Company of Kenosha, Wisconsin, with offices in New Orleans, for more than forty years and was said to have been the only living authority on hides and leather in the south.

He had recently qualified as one of the oldest living members of the New Orleans Athletic Club. While living he served for many years on the Board of Directors of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company and was past commodore of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Emily Edwards of Poydras, La.; one daughter, Miss Yvonne Lacoste, training at the University of Oklahoma in the Waves; four sons: E. J. Lacoste II, civil engineer with the Burns Construction Company at Hot Springs, Arkansas; Robert Lacoste with the Army Air Corps at Keesler Field; Bernard Lacoste, Jr., in the Army Air Corps at Long Beach, California; Paul Lacoste, a cadet at Mississippi State College training for Naval Reserve. He also leaves a sister, Miss Evelyn Lacoste of Bay St. Louis and one grandson, E. J. Lacoste III.

A gentleman of the old school has died but with his gentlemanly bearing and courtly manners he lives again in his splendid daughter and sons who are giving their best to their country, in the brave wife who gave unstintingly of herself for her husband and children when skies were gray and who knows no creed or color in her charities; in his sister who kept the home fires burning for "They also serve who only stand and wait."

"His life was gentle; and the elements so mixed in him, that all nature might stand up, and say to all the world, 'This was a man.'"

Services were held here at the Fahey Funeral Home and at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, the Rev. Father William Clark officiating, at the home and Rev. A. J. Gmelch at the church. The body was taken to New Orleans for interment.

Those acting as pallbearers were John K. Edwards, W. J. Harrison, H. C. Glover, Forster Commagere, Laurin Kergosien and Arthur Scafield.

Dr. B. L. Ramsey To Report For Active Service

The Office of Public Relations of the Eighth Naval District advises that Dr. B. L. Ramsey of Bay St. Louis, who has been commissioned as a Lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve, has been ordered to report to Marine Barracks, Paris, South Carolina.

We wish to extend our congratulations to Dr. Ramsey and wish for him God speed. The Navy has made no mistake in issuing a commission to Dr. Ramsey, as they secured the services of a really high class dentist.

RED CROSS MEETING HELD

Wednesday Morning, February 3rd—Members Appointed

On Wednesday morning, February 3rd, a meeting of the Executive Board of the Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross was held in the courthouse with the following members present:

Walter J. Gex, Chairman, H. Grady Perkins, 1st Vice President, Mrs. Elizabeth Weston, 2nd Vice President, Mrs. C. Y. Blaise, Secretary, and the following members, Lucien M. Gex, A. G. Favre, Mesdames Leo Seal and C. C. McDonald, Isaac Frierson, H. T. Carr.

Mr. Walter J. Gex presided at the meeting and welcomed the new members.

Mr. Francis J. Bopp was unanimously elected as treasurer to fill the vacancy on the Board caused by the resignation of Mr. A. A. Scafield.

The meeting was turned into a forum to discuss means for meeting the war fund quota of $5700.08 which had been assigned to Hancock County and which begins on March 1st.

The members of the Executive Board were advised that on February 28th there will be a national radio hook-up formally opening the War Fund Drive all over the country when President Franklin Delano Roosevelt who is president of the American Red Cross, will address the people and General Dwight Eisenhower will speak from his battle station across the sea to his mother who resides in the East.

Mr. Lucien M. Gex, Chairman of the War Fund Campaign, discussed tentative plans which he had outlined for the drive for funds and stated that committees would be named at a later date.

Mrs. Roger M. Boh, Chairman, and the members of her Block System Committee of the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office, will assist in the house-to-house campaign for funds, and a Publicity Committee for handling posters and window displays will be named later.

Miss May H. Edwards has been named Chairman of Publicity for the War Fund Campaign.

With an anticipated army of more than seven million men, the greatest quota ever named before will have to be collected in order to maintain the many services which Red Cross extends to men in the battlefronts and to those in camp, and for financing the ever-increasing requirements of home service.

BUD'S LETTER

Things have been going bad with me lately. I have a bad case of the miseries (of my conscience), and they sure hurt. It all came about because of my mother-in-law—he is always tending to my business and making a fool of me. The other day me came by the house and made the remark about how scarce some types of foods had become. Well, in my pride of how smart I was, I had to show him something.

I carried him back to my pantry and showed him how much stuff I had. Being a bright fellow, I had bought up plenty of canned meats, vegetables, fruit, etc. I even had plenty of white Karo (an article a grocer shouldn't sell unless it's for a baby formula) and canned milk so we could make candy and cakes. If I can't get something at the store, I say to him, I just go to my pantry.

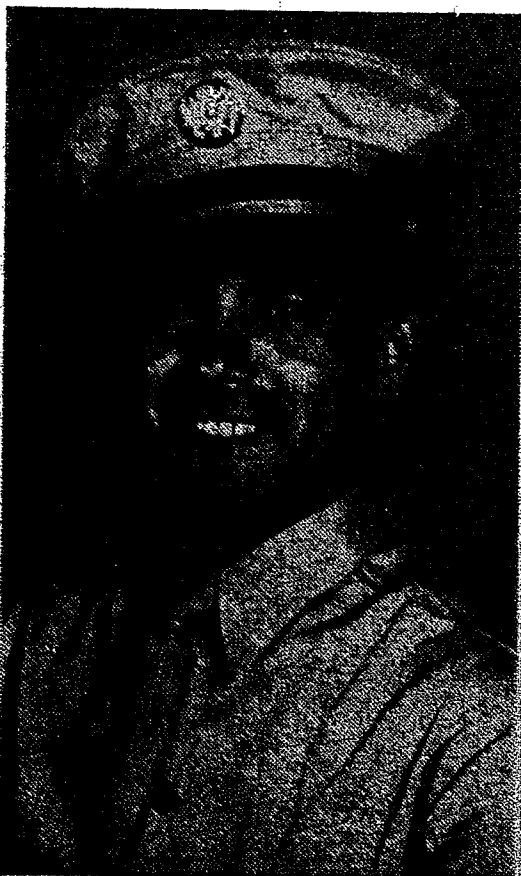

Well, Red, he don't say anything at first (just staggers a little), and I thinks he is admiring me for being so smart. Finally he says to me, "why all this, Uncle Sam is going to see that everyone gets his share of everything." Well, I says I wants to get a little stuff on hand before the hoarders get started on things.

Now Red, that fellow fairly exploded in my face. When he cools off enough to talk he says he didn't know I was an enemy agent (by now I see what's coming and I get behind a chair) and that I ought to be making enough out of it to pay him some on what I owe him. Well, Red, being a patriotic citizen, I gits mad. Then he tells me to sit down and lets talk.

Well, I sits and he talks. He tells me about how I am depriving someone else of something and that he can't even get white Karo for his babies formula. He says the soldiers have to be fed and the fighters of other countries are even looking to us for food. Then he tells me that I am helping defeat the v-y thing we are fighting for—Democracy.

Red, I sure felt guilty and I was so disgusted with myself I couldn't even look at me. I decides I'm going to turn in a list of everything I have when the new cards come out, and that makes me feel better, but every time I think of what I was about to do, the miseries start again.

STUDY IN RELATIVITY

A GLOBAL war has given all of us a different understanding of relative values of almost everything under the sun.

A year ago we talked glibly about essential and nonessential industries. Guns, ammunition, airplanes and ships were essential. The lowly milk cow, or the hen cackling when she laid an egg, were just part of the country scenery.

But a year later, we have awakened with a start to the fact that milk, butter, eggs, and a thousand-and-one other products that seemed relatively unimportant compared to battle equipment, are today the indispensable things that keep our armies and fleets in fighting trim—not only our own but our Allies.

Millions of people found when preparing Christmas packages that candy—one of the articles that we have taken for granted like air and water—was hard to get or unobtainable in many cases. And why? Because it was being sent literally by the shipload to all parts of the world for our armed forces. The Army nutrition experts find the American soldier is a better fighting man when candy is part of his diet. It is one of the things that soldiers buy most in railroad stations and camps. It goes into the mountains, jungles and deserts in many forms as an Army field ration.

Here is a story of relativity. When the war started, who ever thought of a package of candy in relation to a rifle, a cannon, a jungle uniform, or a rubber life boat? In twelve months, our sense of values has indeed changed. From now on, the wise man will be cautious in classifying essential and nonessential enterprise.

A WORLD RECORD

WHERE does sense end and nonsense begin? One might well ask that question about the rules and regulations that apply to buying and selling by American merchants.

How can the average storekeeper find the time to read and digest the rules and regulations that apply to ten-thousand-and-one items that his shelves and counters contain?

The marvel is that they have been able to adjust themselves and at the same time furnish the customers uninterrupted service.

No branch of business or industry has cooperated more closely with the government in its anti-inflation plans than have the local merchants, but the service they render the people is largely taken for granted, like air and water.

When industries building battleships and planes and cannon are in the spotlight and getting the flags and citations for doing war work, it is only fair to speak a word in behalf of the local merchants who render an indispensable service to every war worker who takes it for granted the store will have what he wants when he wants it.

The headaches behind the counters of the local merchants are many today, and they get no medals for doing the most remarkable merchandising job at the lowest turnover profit the world has ever seen.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

BEHIND the scenes, and seldom fully reported in the press or on the air, there is in motion the preliminary moves in one of the greatest presidential contests that the nation has witnessed.

The idea that politics have been adjourned is nonsense. The two-party system, revived by the recent election, is functioning at top-speed with the chief end in view, the winning of the election of 1944.

This does not mean that the members of either party, collectively, will oppose methods or measures designed to win the war. This would be putting a low on the patriotism of our office-holders and would-be office-holders.

Frankly, we believe that there is a considerable unanimity as to winning the war but, behind the scenes, the politicians are devoting some thought to how the winning of the war will revert to the benefit of their particular party.

KEEP THE EAGLE FLYING

AN old fable tells how a mouse released a lion by gnawing the net that trapped him.

Millions of small taxpayers in this country, by their tax payments, must gnaw away the debt net that now enmeshes their government.

The immediate passage by Congress of a pay-as-you-go tax measure to cover 1943 incomes, will enable all the people to start right now nibbling at the debt.

Wars cost money and the people must pay for them. The sooner they begin to pay, the better. The smaller the installments can be made, the easier taxes are to pay.

So let's face the facts and keep the Eagle flying high.

While there is no time-and-a-half for overtime in the fox-holes, there is no extra dividend to be split at the end of the hitch.

Before 1943 is over many dwellers in the cities of the land will have a deeper appreciation of what the farmers do for the nation.

Every American can do something to help the war effort; there are many opportunities for us to do something for the boys at the front. Every individual should resolve to be a committee of one, in positive activity.

Whether we like it or not, we should understand that gasoline and food rationing is only the beginning; we have just begun to fight.

But—Sacrificing Non-Essential Calls Helps Clear Lines for Vital War Calls

You bet it's pleasant to talk with friends over the telephone, just as it was pleasant to take those long Sunday afternoon rides when we had plenty of tires and gasoline.

But social calls must be handled over the same local telephone facilities as war calls. There is a definite limit to the number of calls these facilities can handle at the same time, and when more calls are made, some must wait.

With telephone equipment already burdened with war calls, non-essential calls may delay necessary calls, so we are requesting your voluntary cooperation to reduce unnecessary calling.

Under normal conditions we would expand our facilities to care for the increased volume of calls, but we cannot do that now because the needed materials are going into war weapons.

So won't you help by making fewer local calls? And when you must make a call, won't you please try to make it as short as possible?

SUNDAY-MONDAY AT A. & G. THEATRE "GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE"

Featuring Jack Benny and Ann Sheridan

Jack Benny in a Moss Hart and George Kaufman comedy is still Jack Benny of the slow burn and this is more than I can bear comedy technique. In this adaptation of the successful Broadway stage play, the comedian adds prat-falls to his repertoire.

Mr. Benny, the comedian, the protesting husband who is maneuvered by the wife with a zeal for Americana into moving from a city apartment, which he loves, into a tumble-down but Colonial home in the country, which he hates. The laughs arise from his exasperation at his wife's impracticability; the phlegmatic caretaker's implacable bills for gravel—fertilizer and well-drilling; rich Uncle Stanley who turns out to be poor; impish nephew Raymond; and the final bitter information from a personable local antiquarian that it was not George Washington but Benedict Arnold who was reputed to have slept in the house.

In the frothy Hart and Kaufman manner, everything turns out for the best when the threatened mortgage foreclosure is averted by the discovery of a Colonial boot in the well and a manuscript in Washington's handwriting called "Notes on a speech to the officers"

Congressional Sidelights Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

War Budget

President Roosevelt last week sent to the Congress a budget of 109 billion dollars for the year 1943-44 fiscal year beginning July 1st—the largest budget in the history of any nation.

It called for the expenditure of about 97 billion dollars for war activity, almost four billion dollars for the war-financing subsidiaries of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and three billions for interest on the public debt. Despite the staggering totals listed, there is one encouraging note in the huge budget: the total asked for non-war activities is only a little more than four billion dollars—36.7 percent lower than in 1939 and less by 458 millions than for the present fiscal year.

The budget recommendations outlined by the President thus contemplate that 36 cents out of every dollar expended by the federal government in the coming fiscal year will be used to pay war costs and interest on the public debt and only four cents will go for so-called non-war purposes. There will be much controversy, of course, over which expenditures are essential and which are not, and the budget is expected to be carefully scrutinized by Congress and every effort made to eliminate or reduce all items which can be so handled without hurt to the production. Many non-war agencies actually contribute to the war effort, as there are many non-military units—the Post Office Department for instance—which have had their work increased by the war.

Congress, the Treasury Department, and the Budget Bureau will be faced with the problem of raising about 16 billion dollars in new revenue.

Roosevelt and Churchill

The whole country, in fact the entire civilized world, was electrified the past week when it was learned that President Roosevelt had flown to North Africa and there met Prime Minister Churchill and many high-ranking naval, military and political figures for a series of conferences.

Of course little is known of what actually transpired at these conferences and what far-reaching decisions might have been made. It is doubtful whether the public will be fully advised about the details of this momentous occasion until after the war. The science of war and world politics does not permit of detailed chronicling of these matters. Of course it is obvious that the enemy could easily profit by knowledge in advance of the plans of the Allies. For the present at least the public must guess just what did happen. That the meeting was spectacular and even reminiscent of the now historical meetings between Hitler and Mussolini is within itself significant. We now recall in the light of what later transpired that after each meeting between the heads of the Axis powers some far-reaching campaign of arms and strategy followed. It is therefore reasonable to assume that the Allied strategy agreed upon at this famous Casablanca conference carries with it momentous implications.

It is interesting to note that President Roosevelt in making this unprecedented flight to the shores of Africa in the midst of this world conflict, risking his life and the country's leadership, has followed the course of breaking precedents which has characterized his occupancy of the White House. It will be recalled that he was the first candidate for President to fly to a political convention to accept the nomination for the Presidency. With the exception of Woodrow Wilson, he is the first President to address the Congress in person frequently instead of sending his messages to be read by a reading clerk. Moreover, he is the first President who has utilized the radio extensively in taking his cause to the people in his fireside chats.

With apologies to Truth or Consequences and Dentine Chewing Gum program the song "Dentine Chewing Gum Commercial" was sung by Audrey Lee Biehl, Eloise Collier, Mary Margaret Thomas, Betty Lee Mitchell, Elsie Bianchi and Bonnie Kate Crutchfield.

Eloise Collier impersonating Dolly Dentine did a tap dance which was met with applause.

If a contestant missed two out of three Lydia Monti gave them an amusing "consequence" to perform and these were mirth producing to put it mildly.

"Pat" Rooney and his Rhythm Orchestra furnished the music and a special selection was dedicated to Miss Blaise.

The stage managers were Lester Cook, Herbert Carver and Irma Moran. George Milan was the perfect heckler from the gallery.

ORTTE THEATER SUNDAY-MONDAY "A YANK AT ETON"

Starring Mickey Rooney

Mickey Rooney proves again why he is Hollywood's number one star in "A Yank at Eton" the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film.

As a typical American boy in England's most exclusive school, Mickey has some of the most hilarious scenes of his film career, and some of the most dramatic. He plays American football and English cricket. He runs a steeplechase. He leads twelve little Eton boys in a slapstick brawl with four husky waiters of a roadside inn. And he licks the Eton bully.

In short, there isn't much that Mickey doesn't do.

Action Gets Into Full Swing
After a few preliminary events in America, and a shipboard romance with cute, red-haired Tina Thayer, the action really gets into full swing when Mickey arrives in England and is enrolled at Eton.

Resolved to dislike his new surroundings, he gets into one scrape after another. Then, when Freddie Bartholomew, as his English stepbrother, is suspected of stealing the housemaster's car and wrecking it, Mickey "takes the rap" and is "sacked."

But, when he learns that Freddie isn't guilty, he sets out to prove his own innocence. He does it too, just in the nick of time, to be reinstated and run in the big steeplechase, which he wins from the school bully. While Mickey is his usual brilliant self as "The Yank," Freddie Bartholomew, playing in his fifth picture with Rooney, also is outstanding. Now a full head taller than Mickey, he is hard to recognize as the little boy who once started in "David Copperfield."

Edmund Gwenn scores as the jovial Eton housemaster, while credit for able performances is also due Ian Hunter, Alan Mowbray, Raymond Severn and Peter Lawford.

Norman Taurag who directed Rooney in the two "Boys Town" pictures, turned in another skillful job with "A Yank at Eton."

QUIZ PROGRAM PRESENTED AT BAY HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Julia Blaise, sponsor for the Junior Class at Bay High presented a number of her students in a quiz program on Thursday at the school which was planned by Shelby Weston, Mary Catherine Sharp, Elsie Bianchi, Gloria Tyler, Jim Evans and Leroy Adams.

The contestants in the quiz which was a burlesque of a Dentine Chewing Gum quiz were called from the audience by Ina Claire Smith and Beverly Davis and the contestants were Edward Porter, Pat Murphy, Laura Ann Starita, Wanda "Judy" Benvenuti, Thelma Piazza, Eunice Moran, Betty Ryden and Melanie Bourgeois. Jim Evans as Dr. Know-It-All carried off his part in a splendid way as did Leroy Adams as commercial announcer.

With apologies to Truth or Consequences and Dentine Chewing Gum program the song "Dentine Chewing Gum Commercial" was sung by Audrey Lee Biehl, Eloise Collier, Mary Margaret Thomas, Betty Lee Mitchell, Elsie Bianchi and Bonnie Kate Crutchfield.

Eloise Collier impersonating Dolly Dentine did a tap dance which was met with applause.

INCOME TAXES

There is still much discussion in and out of Congress of the so-called Ruml, or "pay-as-you-go," Income Tax Plan. While hearings on this and similar proposals have been assured by the Ways and Means Committee of the House—where all tax bills originate—it is safe to say that Mr. Ruml had better plan on paying his 1942 taxes this year pretty much as he did last. He should not be lulled into a false sense of security by the various rumors and reports that should plan to file his income tax return as usual. It is possible that some new system may be worked out, but it is highly improbable at the 1942 taxes will be forgiven as is popularly understood.

All Registrants 18 to 38 Years Must Carry Classification Cards

All men in the state of Mississippi between the ages of 18 and 38, who have been subject to selective service registration for as long as six months and who do not have their classification cards were advised today by Colonel Lawrence W. Long, State Director of selective service, to communicate with their local boards at once. On and after February 1, the Director pointed out, any man in this age group who does not have in his personal possession his classification card (form 57) as well as his certificate of registration is liable to fine or imprisonment, or both.

The recent order of the Selective Service Bureau of the War Manpower Commission, setting the February 1 deadline for possession of classification cards by men of military ages has met with prompt response in Mississippi, the Director said. Many registrants are reporting to their local boards, requesting classification or asking that lost classification cards be duplicated. However, Colonel Lawrence W. Long says he believes there are still a few who have failed to get in touch with their boards because of carelessness or negligence.

Registrants in the 45-to-65-year-old group are not affected by the order, said Colonel Lawrence W. Long, and there are a considerable number of men in the State who can be considered as delinquent, according to selective service regulations, for failure to keep in touch with their local boards. Nevertheless, he emphasized that in the present emergency no man will be allowed to avoid military responsibility merely because of failure to keep his local board advised of his whereabouts.

It has been determined, therefore, Colonel Lawrence Long said, to require each registrant subject to the order not only to have his registration certificate (form 2) in his personal possession but also to have his classification card (form 57) with him at all times to show that he has been classified by his local board.

While, after February 1, those registrants who fail to carry their classification cards will be liable to fine, imprisonment, or both, the Director made it plain that neither arrest nor prosecution of violators of the Selective Training and Service Act, or regulations promulgated under it, is the function of the Selective Service system or of its agents, including local board members. The Federal Bureau of Investigation investigates most of the cases, as the Department of Justice is the authorized enforcement agency. When there is suspected delinquency, the case is referred to the appropriate United States District Attorney.

Violators of the Act, or its regulations, are liable under the law to a maximum fine of $10,000, or five years in prison, or both.

So that each registrant in Mississippi will comply with the order requiring possession of classification cards as well as registration certificates, Colonel Lawrence W. Long said that:

- (1) If he is subject to registration he should be registered and have his registration certificate (form 2) in his possession.
- (2) If he belongs to an age group required to register as long as six months ago, exclusive of the 45-to-65-year-old group, he should have his classification card (form 57) as well as his registration card in his possession.

session, not later than February 1. Those subject to the new requirement who are not in compliance with it or not certain whether they are in compliance, should:

- (1) Register at the nearest local board if they have not received their classification card (form 57) and be certain that their local board knows their proper address where mail will reach them at all times.

(3) If they have received a classification card (form 57) and have lost it, they should so notify their local boards, requesting a duplicate.

Any man who is not certain of the address of his local board should go to the nearest local board and ask that a communication from him be referred to the board having jurisdiction over the area which he described as his place of residence at the time he registered, the Director said.

TWO VICTORY GARDENS WORTHY OF MENTION

With the added interest in Victory Gardens, two gardens worthy of mention are those of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. O'Brien at the corner of State and Second, and that of Mr. John Edwards in the rear of the Edwards property facing Sycamore street.

In each garden is grown a variety of vegetables, mainly cabbage, lettuce, beets, turnips, mustard greens and potatoes, both Irish and sweet, and more than enough for use of these families. The notable thing about the gardens is too that Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien and Mr. Edwards work and weed their gardens themselves and enjoy the exercise and outdoor touch with nature, besides the pleasure of having fresh vegetables the year around.

No. 4672

In the Matter of the Validation of $15,000.00 (FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS) OF Municipal School Funding Bonds of 1943 of the City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, which are issued for the purpose of providing sufficient funds to liquidate and retire certain outstanding, undisputed, valid and legal obligations of the School Fund of the said City of Bay St. Louis, as fully described in the Ordinance of said Board adopted and approved on January 18th, 1943, and there are not and will not be sufficient funds on hand with which to pay said obligations.

To the Tax Payers of the City of Bay St. Louis of Hancock County, Mississippi.

NOTICE

You are hereby notified that the Matter of the Validation of the above mentioned Bonds will come on for hearing before the Chancellor at the Court House of Hancock County, Mississippi, on the 15th day of February, 1943, on or before which date, objections, if any, must be filed.

(SEAL) A. G. FAVRE, Chancery Clerk of Hancock County.

37 Living Confederates

January 19th is a legal holiday in Mississippi because it is the birthday anniversary of Gen. Robt. E. Lee. On that day the people of this state pause in the rush of material things to pay tribute and homage to the great leader and commander of the Confederate armies. And in this connection we are reminded that the "Thin Gray Line" has almost disappeared in the 78 years which have passed since that fateful day at Appomattox. According to the record in the office of the State Auditor at Jackson only 43 Confederate veterans are now left in the state. In the War between the States Mississippi furnished approximately 70,000 soldiers. The state of Georgia has only 37 living Confederates.

Bank Deposits Up

Reports by the state banks in Mississippi made to the banking department on December 31, 1942, show that the banks had on deposit on that date the sum $262,186,370.82, as compared to $183,881,432.21 on December 31st, 1941. An increase in one year of $78,304,938.61. In addition to the amount on deposit people of the state have millions invested in war bonds which is equivalent to cash but is not shown on deposits. The amount on deposit in state banks, plus the deposits in national banks, plus the war bonds being held would add up to a hefty sum.

Local Cooperation

The newspapers, radio stations, commentators, columnists, and all who had information of the Roosevelt-Churchill African Conference are to be commended for their loyal, patriotic cooperative spirit in keeping this momentous occasion from the public until it was released officially. President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill spent ten days or more in French Morocco mapping future military movements, which definitely force unconditional surrender of the Axis. The leading publicity agents mentioned never announced a word about it until the President was back on American soil. The newspapers, radio stations, commentators, columnists, and all who had the information without exception observed the request of the President for no publicity, as rigidly and honorably as if it had been the iron-clad law of the nation. That is democracy at its best.

Tree Production

Mississippi has approximately twice as many bearing tung oil trees as other states combined. Mississippi has more than 9,000,000 tung trees growing but only three million are bearing nuts. In some cases the owners are receiving as much as a hundred dollars per acre for the nuts. The price this year, however, is unusually high. The tung tree promises well for the future in the climate belt where they grow.

Plant Pine Seedlings

The Masonite Corporation of Laurel is distributing 1,500,000 pine seedlings to Future Farmers of America and 4-H Clubs in 13 counties of south Mississippi. It has been demonstrated that all over the state pine forests may be kept in perpetual production by a proper system of replanting. Timber has been a prolific source of financial income to this state and may be kept up and even improved if attention be given to reforestation. Millions of acres in the state unit for cultivation will bear trees and thus the "waste lands" will produce revenue.

Believed For Prison Camp

Condemnation proceedings instituted by the War Department has resulted in the government taking over 822 acres of land in the community of McRaven, just out of Jackson. It seems understood that the land will be used for the establishment of a prison camp, where foreign soldiers captured in the present war may be kept, until the unconditional surrender of the Axis.

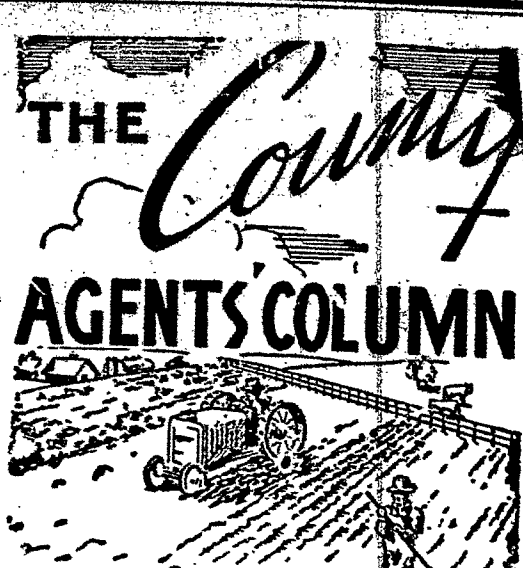

New Industry

A new industry in Mississippi is the tung oil tree. Until recent years tung oil, used in making paint and varnish, was imported from China, but large plantations are now being planted in these nut-bearing trees along the coast of the Gulf States, where the climate is favorable to their growth. A comprehensive article on the tung tree appeared in the Wall Street Journal last week.

Bad Colds

Teeming thousands of people over the state seem to be suffering from "bad colds," probably the world's oldest and most prevalent disease, and least understood by medical science. Like the wind, we know not whence it cometh or whither it goeth, but it does its work just the same. We are told on good authority that 27,000 remedies have been patented and registered with the government, for the "cure of colds," and yet we go on having in the United States an average of 325,000,000 cases a year.

Raking Around It has been an-

New Farm Machinery Situation

By order of the National U. S. D. A. War Board Allotment of Farm machines only one-fifth as many machines as were sold in 1940 is to be apportioned—of this amount 25 per cent is to be withheld as a possible national and state reserve.

Recently the county war board received notification of the numbers of each class of new machines to be manufactured in 1943 for each county.

Even though these 1943 numbers may appear inadequate to meet the purchase demand for new machines, it is felt that there is more equipment now on farms than is commonly recognized. No instance has been cited by any agricultural agency where land was not used or where crops were lost, for lack of machinery in 1942.

Many plows, harrows, planters and cultivators, it is recognized are getting old and badly worn. Most of these can be repaired, mended and reconditioned if steps are taken in time for this kind of work before needed.

The dealers, equipment, and shops, the machinery repair shops, and the vocational schools are all doing everything possible to help farmers recondition these implements. If the farmer has no shop of his own, he should have this work done early elsewhere while there is yet time. If he has idle machinery which can be repaired or used by someone else, such machines should be brought to bear against the enemy. If any machines can't be salvaged or repaired, then such parts as might be used on another implement should be saved and the rest sold to the junk dealer.

Scrap metals are urgently needed to build machines of war for our allies. When sufficient junk has been gathered to meet the needs of munitions and arms, then we can expect new farm machines to replace the old ones.

Beef Cattle Production in 1943

Grass and roughage will be paramount in meeting Mississippi's 1943 goal of a 34 percent increase in beef cattle marketings and a 2 percent increase in beef cattle inventories. Pasture management, which includes use of fertilizers, removal of brush and briars, and the production of larger supplies of silage and hay is essential if the state goal is to be achieved.

Extension animal husbandry recommendations include increasing calf crop percentage by better care of cow herd this winter and at calving time and the use of more mature quality bulls with the breeding cows in 1943.

Allotment of 20 to 25, rather than more, cows to each mature bull is suggested. Old, irregularly producing or inferior cows should be marketed in the late summer or early fall when fat. This will add to the beef supply and increase herd efficiency.

Increase sale weight of January and February born calves that are to be sold for slaughter by creep feeding. Where grain is available on the farm and pasture arrangement is suited to the grouping of cows and calves, an extra 100 pounds or more weight can be added by creep feeding. See Extension bulletin 118, beef cattle Enterprise in Mississippi.) Finish more steers for market. If cattle production goal is met, a major portion of the increase will have to be obtained by marketing cattle at heavier weights. The delta area, some sections, in the brown loam and the prairie belt could feed thousands of steers to army specifications (good and commercial beef grades) by finishing middle grades of cattle.

Feeding may be for 120 to 150 days seed meal and limited corn or cottonseed meal alone. Where considerable summer gain can be put on feeder cattle with grass or grass and cake, the medium finishing of steers under present conditions is a profitable way of marketing feed.

Grow more silage and store in temporary box or wire silos, or silos of permanent type, if available, for wintering cattle or for use in fattening steers. With a probably reduced hay acreage in 1943 from use of more acres for soybeans and peanuts for oil, silage appears the practical answer to the production of necessary roughage for cattle, as a large tonnage can be grown on relatively small acreage.

Treat all calves with blackleg bacteria to prevent death loss from blackleg outbreaks.

Use every precaution to remove "Bang's" disease carriers from herds. The test and slaughter method, or combination of this method, with calfhood vaccination in seriously infected herds, is recommended by announced that the Hinds County Livestock Association will hold its annual stock show at Edwards on March 15, 16 and 17. A pipeline from Longview, Texas, to Norris City, Illinois, has been completed and the oil turned in, but another leg of the line east of Norris City extending the line 875 miles will soon be completed.

Ben Kitchens has been appointed sheriff of Union County to succeed his brother, Honnell, who died a few days ago. The Secretary of State in Missouri says the hens of the "Show-Me-State" plucked down 2,531,000,000 eggs in 1942.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

HOSTESSES of Pan American at the airports personify the service of air travel. They provide many a pleasant surprise. They offer so many extra services for your information and convenience.

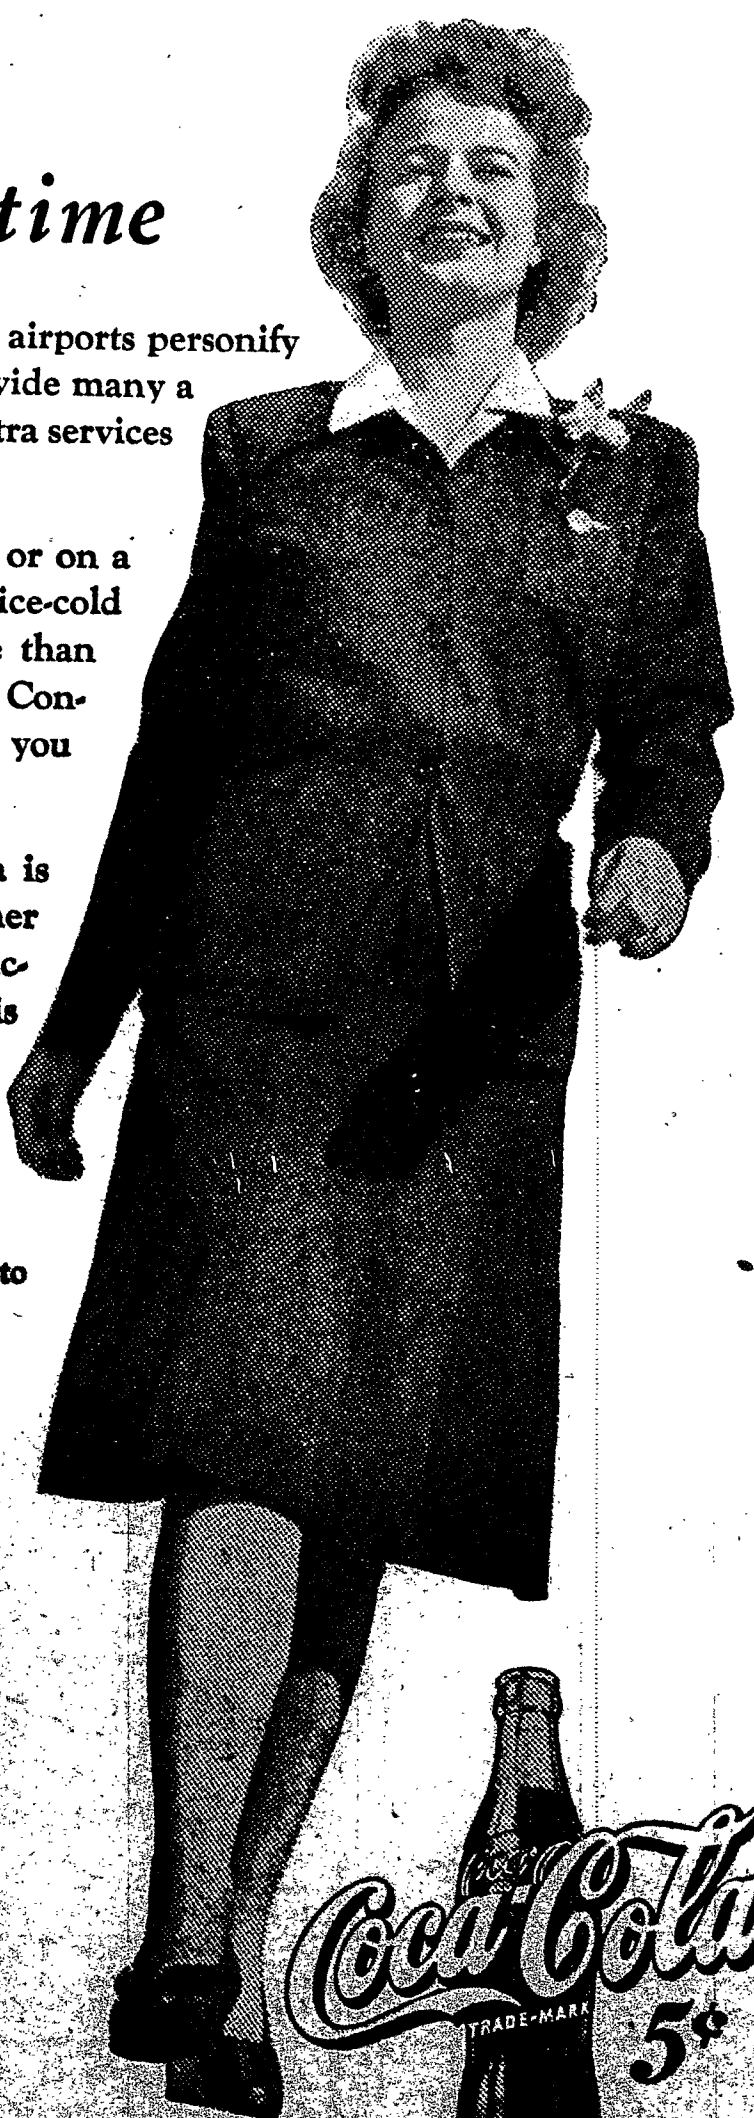

And when you're thirsty, at a terminal or on a Clipper, another surprise awaits you in ice-cold Coca-Cola. Here's the drink that more than quenches thirst. It adds refreshment. Contentment comes in your travels when you connect with a Coke.

That refreshing difference in Coca-Cola is assured by choicest ingredients put together with a finished art from a lifetime of practice. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Both mean the same thing—"coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

Trained, courteous and efficient hostesses of Pan American Airways know how the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coca-Cola keeps things running smoothly.

The best is always the better buy!

 Course in Fort Knox. His new address is: 13th Co. T. G. A. F. S., Fort Knox, Ky.

Waveland News

A QUIET, small wedding but one of interest here, and solemnized in New Orleans was that of Miss Adeline Harvey daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Harvey, and Cpl.
 Henry Carrio of New Orleans and Waveland. The wedding was celebrated at St. Joseph's church in New Orleans on Wednesday, January 21, at 7:30 P. M. The bride was given in marriage by her brother C. K.
 Harvey, Jr. She had as her matron of honor Mrs. Henry Carrio, Jr., and Cpl. Carrio had as his best man his brother, Henry, Jr., of Galveston, Texas. A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents for both families and intimate friends.

On Monday, January 18th, Mrs.
 J. L. Schawander and Mrs. H. G.
 Geisler entertained, jointly at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Harvey. The color scheme of red, white and blue was carried out. Miss Harvey was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts. Delicious punch and cakes were served by the hostesses.

Among the out of town guests for the shower and wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte, aunt of the groom—their daughters, Margaret and Shirley, Theresa Bordages, Mrs. Ben Bourgeois, Alphonse Favre, and Anthony Bourgeois, Jr., all of Waveland. Mrs. R. W. Reems, aunt of the groom from Houston, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carrio, Jr., and daughter of Galveston, Texas and many local friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte had as their dinner guest over Sunday—
 Pvt. and Mrs. Sydney Bourgeois, Pvt.
 Albin Chroniska from Alabama; Mr.
 and Mrs. Jake Schwander and daughter,
 Linda Anne; Mr. and Mrs. Henry
 Carrio, all from New Orleans.

Mrs. Ben E. Bourgeois with Bernadine and Bernard visited their father who is at present a patient in the Veterans Hospital in Biloxi, Miss.
 Mr. Benny has the good wishes of his friends for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bougeois feel that they are proud parents of three sons now in the service—Clifford, Wesley and Morris, with Leroy now at home and one of their youngest waiting to be called. These boys write as often as possible and their letters always bring with them a ray of sunshine to their family and many friends. Morris is stationed somewhere in Washington and describes it as a pretty location.

News comes from Mrs. Mildred
 Bryan (formerly Mildred Wheat) that she is now located at 120 N.
 Cool Street, Fayetteville, N. C. It will be remembered that Mrs. Bryan was teaching at Lakeshore and Webb schools for a number of years, before securing a position as hostess at Keesler Field in Biloxi.

Among the week enders to enjoy the sunshine and wonderful climate here were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voel-ker from L. S. U., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voelker. They also entertained Miss Bernadine and Miss Carrie O'Neill of New Orleans.

Mrs. J. V. Colson with her mother Mrs. Hazel Lamer came to be with Marshal Buddy Dufour.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Traham with Mrs.
 Robertson were over paying taxes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Chapman of Coleman avenue, had as their guest
 Mrs. Clara Tucker of Wichita Kansas. Mrs. Tucker is a sister to Mr.
 Chapman. She spoke of the vast difference in the two climates, having left Kansas with real cold weather.

Russell Chapman has joined the Navy. Russell was an outstanding student of Bay High having finished there. Up to the time of his enlistment he attended Mississippi State College.

Mrs. Jenkins of Edwardsville is now in possession of a fine milch cow formerly owned by the R. P.
 Chapmans.

Waveland school children had a holiday on Tuesday due to some trouble in the heating system.

 ing to visit her husband who is stationed in St. Augustine, Florida.

Catahoula News

ALTHOUGH springtime is not yet here, the many farmers of Catahoula are getting out their old plows and cultivating their farms.
 They are all out for bumper crops
 this year.

Among the many people who were here on business this week were Mr.
 Loren Necaise, Mr. Alex C. Cuevas,
 Mr. Olige Necaise and Mr. J. W.
 Cuevas.

Mr. Randolph Seal and Mr. Thomas Dossett of Catahoula journeyed to Kiln on business this week. The main purpose of the trip was to discuss Hancock County's part in the Food For Victory Program. This discussion was made with the Agricultural Authorities there.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Spence and family spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dossett.

The stock farm which was previously owned by Mr. H. H. Lawler of Texas has been taken over by a Mr. Deaz from Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seal, Miss Annie Necaise and Sergt. Nelson Necaise and Mrs. Necaise were visitors here Friday night.

Mrs. Dester Seal and little son,
 Glenn, are spending awhile with her parents in another community.

THE NEW CONGRESS is now in session. The Nation has a right to expect, and does expect, much from this Congress. More, perhaps, than we shall get. More, perhaps, than is wise that we should get, when the Nation is at war. However, in the hearts of most of us there is no longer that gone, dismal, hopeless, "nothing-we-can-do-about-it" feeling. We see in the election of the 78th Congress a step forward on the road to sanity for this Nation—Ellett Lawrence.

COMMANDER AND MRS. HUGH A. ANDREWS ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

The officers from the United States Merchants Marine Cadet Basic School, and their wives were hosts at a formal dinner dance at Hotel Reed on Saturday evening honoring Commander and Mrs. Hugh A. Andrews. Grace was offered by Chaplain McNulty.

The committee arranging for the dinner were Lieutenant A. Bradley, Lieut. G. S. Findley and Lieut. W. F. Fitzgerald. Lieut. J. H. Johnson acted as toast master.

Mrs. Andrews was escorted into dinner by Lieut. Findley and Mrs. Findley by Commander Andrews.

Commander Andrews was presented with the hat, shoulder bars and silver oak leaves. The officers offered a toast to Com. Andrews and in response he proposed a toast to "Our Commander-in-Chief, the President" and all wished him a happy birthday and Com. Andrews called attention to President Roosevelt's great fight against Polymyolitis and what an example he is to everyone.

He praised his foresight, courage and perseverance; his recent splendid faith and fortitude in his recent trip to Africa and for his poise and unswerving purpose. To President Roosevelt credit was given for it having been made possible for the school to open at Henderson Point.

Guests for the occasion were Lieut. and Mrs. Richardson from the New York United States Merchant Marine Academy.

Those present were Commander and Mrs. H. A. Andrews, Lieut. Commander and Mrs. A. E. Champagne, Lt. and Mrs. A. Bradley, Lt. and Mrs. S. A. Jennings, Lt. and Mrs. G. S. Findley, Lt. and Mrs. J. H. From Cpl. Harold E. Cospelich, 8th Photo Sq., APO 929 c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, California:

Received your nice letter and surely was glad to hear from home. I appreciate your attending to the business which I asked you about. You mentioned about my being lonesome for the Bay and Kiln. You just don't know how much I would like to see those two places after being away for so many months.

Would you mind finding out where Clyde and the other boys are stationed so that I can write to them. Also give them my change of address at the Echo so that I can get more news from home.

Hope this letter finds all well and happy.

Your old pal,
Cpl. Harold E. Cospelich.

From Cpl. Bernard J. Firpo, Co. D, 793 M. P. Detch., Camp Maxey, Texas:

I want to thank you for your kindness in putting my picture in the Echo, also your assistants, and I want you to know that I appreciate it very much.

I also want to thank you for the Echo, which I receive regularly. It is a treat to get this paper, which keeps us posted as to how many of the Bay boys are doing their bit for their country to win victory. With the help of God we will win.

Again thanking you and with Best Wishes for a Healthy and Prosperous New Year for you and your family and the Boys at the office, I am,

Sincerely,
Cpl. Bernard J. Firpo.

From Lt. (J. G.) Waller Batson, U. S. N. R., Hotel Philadelphia, 3900 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Penn.:

I was very much pleased to get a copy yesterday of the Echo, and certainly appreciate your having it sent to me. I felt very guilty about not writing you to give you my new address and to thank you for your kindness in sending the paper to me at Newport. I assure you that your courtesy was very sincerely appreciated.

To tell the truth, I have hesitated about giving any address as at all permanent. I am now living at my fourth address since I came to Philadelphia. While I like it at the Hotel Philadelphia, I don't expect even this address to be very permanent, for I think that I'll be shipped out of here in the next two or three weeks. Where I will be assigned, I don't know, but I think I am at last to get my wish of going to sea. I think it should be very interesting and am looking forward to it with keen anticipation. Whatever berth I draw, the duty will certainly be in contrast to the sedentary desk work I did with Mr. Colmer, also to the duty I have had here. I have been in Communications, which is about as confining a work as a congressional secretary. It has been fairly interesting, though, and I'm glad to have had the experience.

I cannot close without complimenting you on the "type of county paper" that you are getting out. I think you and your organization are really doing a swell job. The general make-up strikes me as being very good. Your editorials, in contrast with those of most country weeklies, are alive and timely, and you have several very interesting features. I have been particularly struck by the emphasis you place on news of the men in service. I know that they and their relatives and friends appreciate this.

Please remember me to Walter.

Sincerely, Waller.

From Pvt. Warren Carver, Co. H, 12th Q. M. T. R., T. 344 Camp Lee, Virginia:

Dear Friends:

Spare time except on Sundays, is very scarce up here. From 6 A. M., to 7 P. M., is one continual grind—drills, lectures, training films, calisthenics and educational movies. We get five weeks of basic training and then eight weeks of technical training. It may be that I will be sent to some technical school other than here at Camp Lee. Suits me, though. If I am to be away from home, I might as well see the country. Being away from home is the hardest part of army life for me. Would give anything to be home now, but the best thing to do, I imagine, is just to put that thought out of mind.

Things are pretty interesting here. We are getting along nicely. Saturday evening we had a review of everything we covered in our first week of training. Here are some of the subjects: First aid to the wounded; what to do in case of a gas attack; military courtesy and discipline; defense against tank attack, and identification of friendly aircraft. We are told repeatedly by the officers here that the Q. M. C. is not the easy and safe job in this war that it was in World War 1. All Q. M. troops going abroad are heavily armed with rifles and Thompson Sub machine guns. That is so because the supply line in this war is of more vital importance. Part of our training here includes a three-day bivouac on the rifle range.

Our group must have been pretty well scattered over the country. I was among the first five to be sent away. Ed Larroux and Sam Powell went in one direction and John Kerr, Percy Kennedy and myself in another. When we pulled into Petersburg, Va., (which is 4 miles from here) Percy Kennedy kept going. John Kerr and I stayed together for a few days and now he is in another part of the camp, but I don't know where. There are two other Mississippi boys in the same barracks with me.

Could you send me the issues of the Echo from the 1st of the year? Would really like to have the news from home.

With best regards, I am,
Your friend,
Warren.

From S. Sgt. Clyde F. Ladner, 316th Serv. Sqdn., 99th Serv. Grp., APO No. 687, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

Dear Editor:

I'm still receiving the Echo but at times it doesn't come through. Received one copy on the 10th dated back in October. This could be due to the change in my address.

The copies I have been receiving I have also been sharing with Father Murphy, which is quite a coincidence. Father Murphy was ordained in Bay St. Louis some few years ago and I happened to be near his parish and have had the pleasure of attending his Mass on several occasions.

Wishing you all the good luck possible for the forthcoming year and may you keep up the good work.

Yours truly,
Clyde F. Ladner.
